

ABOUT THE FOUNDER

Prabuddhi Sattrukaisinghe (then known as Prabuddhi Hewavitharana) stepped into her career as a school leaver in 2008 working for a leading BPO establishment in Sri Lanka. She progressed to mid-management level and launched herself at WNS Global Services Sri Lanka exploring new horizons in 2012. This adventure helped nurture a personality filled with immense exposure to diversified working environments and multinationals which created an urge to explore further in international grounds.

She then joined the world's prestigious airline, Qatar Airways in 2015 and gathered a vast array of experiences until May 2021. Now with 14 years of a successful career, whilst working as a consultant in the field of Software Project Management, she managed to establish her vision of Fortior Intel (PVT) LTD, a fully online operated consultancy company.

Prabuddhi is accredited by BELBIN as a consultant to use the Theory, however, that is not the only reward that brings her skills in operations at Fortior Intel into light.

She is a holder of Master of Science degree from University of Bedfordshire with a Commendation in Project Management, a certified Project Management Professional (PMP) with an active membership from Project Management Institute, Certified Scrum Master (CSM) from Scrum Alliance, certified as a Trainer with a Merit on Highfield Level 3 International Award in Delivering Training, a Postgraduate Diploma holder from Herriot Watt University in Business Psychology and she also recently gained her micro-credentials on Organisational Transformation Implementation from the Project Management Institute.

Fortior Intel's concept is to apply theories into practical life-scenarios to enable productive outputs which are more effective as they are already proven with enormous amounts of research, hard-work and is an outcome of intelligent craftsmanship of many known and unknown individuals.
